

For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be said of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases steamed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

covery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back

Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, &c.

and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c. &c.

Warranted an infallible remedy for all applications, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, scabiness, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature's weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

intermittent fevers.

formed by the above medicines, the name,

Fan-Sash Making.
METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufacture in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as it is in town.

Proposals
FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of Universal History Americanised; Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.
BY DAVID HANNAH, M. D.
Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence.
Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS.
ASIA.
The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.
The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.
The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.
The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.
The second, of all parts dependent on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.
It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes; of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Call Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.
This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1780, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.
The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL BRANFORD SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U.
States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither booksellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble —but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex: to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

ANTIQUITIES OF THE WEST.

Mr. Printer,

While so much has been written on the soil, climate and productions of the western country, it is surprising that so little has been said of its antiquities. Altho' I must confess that the depth of human research is incompetent to the task of producing even probable conjecture on this occult subject; yet it is one of the principles of the philosophic mind to search into mysteries which it is unable to investigate to a demonstration.

It may not be unknown to a number of your readers, that from the Alleghany, west to the rocky mountains, you can scarcely travel a day without being in the neighborhood of some of these monuments of antiquity.

Throughout the states of Ohio and Indiana and the territories of Illinois and Missouri, you every where meet with the ruins of old fortifications, which appear to have been executed with too much art, to be the work of the aborigines of the country, considering the savage state in which we found them: unless we consider (what is not very probable) that they have degenerated from a state of civilization, of which they now do not shew the smallest marks.

Besides these, the country abounds in many places with artificial mounds, thrown up in a pyramidal form to a considerable height. As these are more conspicuous in the vicinity of the fortifications than elsewhere, I, at first thought that they might have been for the purpose of watch-towers, and that the whole was more modern than generally conjectured to be. I did not think it improbable that the Spaniards, after first settling Mexico, might have sent colonies to these parts, which have since been cut off; and for their safety, while here, thought it necessary thus to fortify themselves. But more mature reflection induced me to change this opinion;—although the construction of their breast-work appeared to be equal to any modern improvement in the art; yet the mounds, which I at first took for watch-towers, on a closer inspection, I found, must have been intended for a quite different purpose.

My curiosity prompted me to dig several of these up, and I found them to be repositories of the dead—they were full of human bones—and charcoal; with alternate layers of earth from bottom to top. In these I found pieces of pottery, and various trinkets cut out of stone, for which I could conjecture no use. The bones were of more than ordinary size, and I could not but be surprised at the state of preservation in which I found them; however they soon mouldered to dust after coming in contact with the air. The charcoal, from its anti-putrescent quality, might have contributed to their preservation while in the mounds; therefore, we may suppose this race of people to be somewhat acquainted with practical chemistry, of which the modern savages appear quite destitute.

As this mode of burial is different from that of either the Indians or Europeans, it is reasonable to suppose them a different race of people—now extinct.

As in this part of the country, in which I reside, I cannot procure books, from which to make references, or draw comparisons between this mode of burial and that of the Mexicans, or of the nations in the east of Asia, I will leave it to those who have better opportunities to decide what similarity there may be between them, and whether some of the nations may not be descendants of the others.

From the attire found round the corpa which were dug up in the saltpetre and copperas caves in Tennessee, we may reasonably suppose them to be much farther advanced in civilization than any of the Indians of this part of North America, and to have possessed the art of embalming in a higher perfection than the ancient Egyptians. In these the features were perfectly discernable, and the countenance so fresh, that as good a conjecture could be made as to their age, etc. as could be done in a recent corpse.

The various petrifications found in these parts belong more particularly to the province of the naturalist than to that of the antiquarian. But one uncommon appearance I cannot but mention, as it applies measurably to the present subject. In the state of Tennessee there is a hard flat limestone rock of considerable extent, over the whole surface of which there are the prints of human feet, together with that of turkeys, &c. Though this does not argue much in favor of the former civilization of the place, as the prints are all of the bare feet; but it argues what is more important to the natural philosopher—the changeable nature of matter; that this hard rock was once a soft substance, very susceptible of impression, and that stone, particularly the carbonate of lime, grows and hardens like vegetable substances; however modern chemistry has put this beyond a doubt, and in some measure set bounds to the imagination of conjectural philosophers. From the impression of the feet being made larger than those of the present race of men I fear it argues something else, not so gratifying to our pride—I mean the degeneracy of the human family!

A volume might be written merely of description of these ruined monuments of art, which puts conjecture at defiance to say by whom they were erected. Several very learned treatises have been written to prove that the North American Indians are descendants of the Tartars, who emigrated by the Straits from the N. E. of Asia to this country, and that the inhabitants of Mexico and Peru, were originally from China. Others, with as much learning, and full as much probability, conceive that they are the descendants of the Phoenicians or Carthaginians, who passed the pillars of Hercules and lost their way in the great Atlantic ocean, where the trade winds drove them on the American shore. These, the story of the Welch chieftain, who was supposed by some to be the founder of these innumerable mounds, and one hundred others, written with fully as much erudition, all look very handsome on paper. We read and admire, then read again, and put away the books just about as wise as when we took them up. But among all their prying into past ages, I have not found one that supposed them to be an original people, and that China, Tartary, &c. &c. were peopled from this country. I do not see but this carries fully as much reason on its side as any thing that has yet been offered to the public. It certainly is fully as handsome a theory to suppose that the arts and sciences have always been making regular circles round the globe, as that they are sometimes retrograding—and if the Americans gave people and arts to China, this to Egypt, this latter to Europe, and Europe to America again, one complete circle comes within the compass of our fancy; and we might indulge ourselves by adding circle to circle ad infinitum. Did we not unfortunately run foul of the books of Moses. As for my own part I had rather give up this favorite theory, highly as I have been pleased with it, than contend against such high authority.

If the original inhabitants of this country be descendants of the Tartars, and some writers think they can discern a similarity in their physiognomy (with the same stretch of ingenuity they might find a resemblance between a man and a hog, and might contend that they were from the same stock)—I say if the Tartars were their ancestors, they must have found a race of men here much more polished than themselves; for where do we read of even the modern Tartars constructing works of art any wise similar to these we find in the western country?

Unfortunately no written accounts have been found among the inhabitants of this country, if we except the scanty hieroglyphics of the Mexicans, by which we are enabled to trace their origin. It is true, they all have oral traditions; but these are so fabulous and contradictory that they do not deserve repeating, much less a serious refutation. I will merely observe that none of these speak of the race that is extinct. But that a civilized race of men once resided in this country, our own senses must testify, and that this nation was large and extensive, the mouldering ruins of their arts will bear evidence; for they extend some thousands of miles in circuit. But from whence did they spring? By whom were they destroyed? Or where have they gone? Here even conjecture fails us! and we can but sigh for that grandeur which has not even transmitted its name to after ages, and shed a tear over the mouldering ashes of those whose memory we now enjoy.

MAIL ROBBERS.

Agreeably to adjournment of the Circuit Court, the trial of the person charged with robbing the mail, was appointed to take place Saturday morning, at ten o'clock, at which time Joseph Thompson Hare was arraigned at the bar. Application was made by Mr. Winder, one of the counsel for the prisoner, to postpone the trial till to-day. To this the attorney-general objected, stating, that any delay would occasion great inconvenience to the attending witnesses. The Court conceiving that every reasonable indulgence had been granted, ordered the trial to proceed. The jury were then sworn, and the testimonies of the different witnesses heard. The jury retired for about an hour, but were permitted to return, in order to obtain from the court some legal information. Without again retiring from the box, they agreed to a verdict, finding the prisoner guilty of the charges preferred in the indictment. One of the charges, to wit, that of jeopardizing the life of the mail-carrier, by the laws of the United States, subjects the prisoner to the punishment of death.

UPPER CANADA.
The Boston Palladium of Tuesday states, that "a political reformer, of the name of GOURLAY, from England, has been for some time busy in Upper Canada, in stirring up the people to a sense of their wretched condition, and to induce them to insist on a reform—and there is already considerable fermentation. The Legislature has lately been adjourned in consequence of a difference with the Executive Authority. But Gourlay says, nothing is to be expected from a new Governor, nor a new representation, the fault being in the system. He then boldly proposes, the calling of a PROVINCIAL CONGRESS, the appointment of Commissioners to state their wishes to England, and the payment of a voluntary tax of one dollar a poll to defray expenses. He appoints a day for the people to meet and choose their delegates. His own proceedings and writings in the newspapers, prove that there is some liberty in Upper Canada."

NIAGARA CLAIMS.
Under this head, the Niagara paper, of the 25th of April, thus remarks—"The Mail of Thursday evening last, brought the distressing intelligence of the rejection of the bill for the relief of the sufferers on the Niagara frontier. Not since the heart appalling hour, when the citizens of this frontier were guided in their flight from the merciless savage by the gleam of their burning dwellings, has there ever been known such an universal sentiment of depression and despair."

"Many individuals, confiding in the justice of their demands, and fortified in that confidence by the assent of the constituted agent of the government, believing that the same testimony which had availed others, was sufficient to establish their own claims, had proceeded to rebuild their deserted houses."

"The munificence of the state, by granting a loan for their relief, had enabled them to commence, and the liberality of the monied institutions in this quarter, to complete their buildings; and Buffalo, like the Phoenix, appeared revived from its own ashes."

"For nearly two years the hopes and fears of the claimants have fluctuated with the tide of Congressional debate. But every expectation is cut off by the final rejection of the bill."

"How many hearts, who at the dawn of morning poured forth their orisons to heaven, elate with joy and confident in hope—that gazed upon the setting sun, in disappointment, sorrow and despair."

The number of vessels that perished in the late tremendous gale along the English coast, between the Helier and Calais only, is estimated at one hundred and forty.

TRIBUTE TO VALOR.
The rifle company commanded by Captain Beale, who so signally distinguished themselves at the siege of New Orleans, have lately presented general Jackson with an elegant sword. The workmanship is of a superior kind, and reflects honor on the mechanic arts of our country. It is, however, of a massy character, and intended rather as an ornament than use. The scabbard is made of gold, with suitable emblems and devices.

COMMERCIAL.

Consulate of the United States,
St. Pierre, 9th April, 1818.

Sir—I beg leave to inform, that the governor of St. Lucie has, by proclamation, declared the port open until the 31st October, for neutral vessels in amity with Great Britain, for lumber and provisions, except beef, pork, fish, butter, and lard. As it may be of some service to our commerce, please make it known. Also, that flour will be admitted here in French vessels, until the end of October next, subject to a duty of two per cent on valuation.

I am, with perfect esteem, sir, your most obedient servant,
JOHN MITCHELL.
Collector of Customs, Philadelphia.

Consulate of the United States,
St. Pierre, 12th April 1818.
Sir—I now cover you the proclamation of the governor of St. Lucie, mentioned in my former letter.

With perfect regard, I remain, sir, your most obedient servant,
JOHN MITCHELL.
John Steele, esq.
Collector of Customs, Philadelphia.

Translated for the American Centinel,
From the Gazette de la Martinique, April 11, 1818.

PROCLAMATION.
By his excellency lieutenant colonel Edward O'Hara member of the most honorable military order of the Bath, governor and commander in chief of the island of St. Lucie, &c. &c.

Whereas several representations have been made to me by the commissioners of the different quarters, respecting the state of the colony, and the disastrous effects produced by the late hurricane; whereby it appears, that notwithstanding the permission granted for the admission of every kind of provisions into this island, in neutral vessels, the inhabitants still experience much difficulty in providing sufficiently for the subsistence of their negroes, and the scarcity of victuals has never prevailed to such a degree as at present, but a very small portion of the productions of the earth having been preserved from the disasters of the storm.

This privation of food, and the want of shelter from the inclemency of the weather, have been the cause of a very great mortality among their slaves.

Considering, that if the port of Castries should be closed against foreign vessels at the period prescribed by my proclamation of the 8th of November last, the evil would increase to a much greater degree, seeing that, at least seven months will elapse before any benefit can be derived from the productions of the earth, particularly from cassava and bananas, which are the principal food, not only of the slaves, but of the free people of color, and even of a considerable number of the whites.

Wherefore, having consulted his majesty's council of this island, by virtue of the powers and authority with which I am invested and with their advice, I hereby prolong the opening of the port of Castries, to the ships of all nations having a good understanding with Great Britain, until the 31st day of October next, for the importation of rice, Indian corn, Indian meal, and every other kind of provisions, except salted beef, pork, butter, codfish, and other salted fish; we also permit the entrance of animals, such as horses, mules, and horned beasts, as well as wood, and building materials of every kind.

I moreover authorize and permit the exportation of rum, molasses and sugar in the proportions and on the conditions stipulated in my proclamation of the 26th of January last, in the ships of every nation which shall import any of the articles herein mentioned.

Given at the Government House, Castries, the 26th day of March, 1818; and of the reign of his majesty the fifty-eighth.

(Signed) EDWARD O'HARA.
Lieut. col. of the 63d regiment, commander and administrator of the civil government.
By order of his excellency: (Signed) J. R. RAINES, Sec'y.

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:
Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges.
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mild est purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebr or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and looseness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.
At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
Sold only wholesale and retail, by

For the prevention and cure of
is recommended
Hahn's LAXATIVE PILLS.
THIS medicine has been attested with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
